Anatomical, innovative and functional performance

Precision ergonomics. Feature-rich functionality. Striking design deconstructed and reconstructed for performance. We engineer each RH Chair to targeted physiological and situational specifications. Our functions lead all our forms.

Proven human performance at the heart of our identity

Our rigorous research and testing methodology validates how an RH chair enhances individual and organisational performance. Our RH Performance Studies have demonstrated an increase in the baseline performance of all organisations who have taken part. Now, that's Return on Investment.

Performance and Quality are our Core

To increase customer performance we must consistently deliver products of unquestionable quality. We achieve this through the application of the exacting standards. Our 100% in-house, concept-to customer flow of production enables us to control every element – from design, product development and assembly to logistics to ensure high performance quality.

Finding innovative ways for environmental performance

We keep our eye on the prize, the perpetual performance of your people as well as our planet. Our yield is recyclable, and even some biodegradable, products. The result, a minimised impact upon our global home.

The human body is an anatomical miracle. And the better we take care of our bodies, the better we perform. That is as true when it comes to sporting activities as it is for when we are carrying out what we might assume are the most routine of tasks, such as sitting. When we sit in a chair that takes into account our body's natural ease of movement, we breathe better. When we breathe better, it's easier for us to concentrate and we perform better. These are the factors we take into account when designing our chairs. For our customers, that can make the difference between good business and great business.
